Among the notable events of the week was the Red Men's Busaar, which opened at the Opera House Tuesday night and continued through the week, closing to-night after a successful run of five nights. The Opera House was beautifully decorated, and the attractive booths, artistically arranged, were presided over by many young ladies of the city, who, in their handsome costumes, added to the attractiveness of the beautiful scene each night. The programmes presented were most attractive, and with the various novelties and pastimes presented formed an inviting place for pleasureseekers. A large sum was realized for the health of Gredericksburg College on Friday night the college chorus and college orchestra presented an entertainment which was largely patronized and greatly enjoyed. Besides the numbers beautifully rendered by the charus and the Schellens. By the ordering and the Schellens are always of a high order and a source of great pleasure to all who attend them. The Firdsy Night Rending Club of the Zaneighborhood in Orange county has closed after a winter season which proved to be a most pleasant and profitable one to all the members. The membership was a large one and the attendance on the meetings was always good. The principal feature of the club was the reading and study of Shakespeare and Tennyson. RECEPTION IN ROANOKE

Mrs. C. G. Cannaday's Home Was Beautifully Decorated. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Mary College.

The weather this week, with the exception of Sunday, has been rather disagreeable, interfering with the out-foor amusements of the visitors. Carlis, especially bridge whist, have been in great favor, and old and young elike have indulged in the pleasant pastime.

Professor and Mrs. Charles Adiel Lewis Totten have sent out invitations to the wedding reception of their daughter, Eda, and Lleutenant William Plerce Ennis, Artillery Corps, United States army, on Saturday, the 25th of April. The ceremony will occur at the home of the bride-elect's uncle, Captain fra Haines, of Fort Monroe. The reception will be at the Fort Monroe Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augustus Brown, of New York, have issued invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Lois Wood, and Lieutenant Curtis Gantt Rorebeck, Artillery Corps, United States army, on Wednesday aftednoon, April 20th, in the post chapel at Fort Monroe. A reception will follow at the administration building. ROANOKE, VA., April 18.—One of the most brilliant events of the week was the Baster reception given by Mrs. Charles G. Cannaday at her elegant home on Eighth Avenue, S. W., Tuesday afternoon from 8 to 6 o'clock. The parlors were beautifully and artistically IN LYNCHBURG decorated for the occasion. The most conspicuous part of the decorations were the exquisitely hand-painted eggs on ribbons of many colors, forming drapery for the doors, the windows, chandeliers, mantels. Eggs sverywhere, eggs of all sizes and colors. Each room was of a different color, and the color schemes created piotures of rare beauty. The reception hall was in layender and green and the reception room in red and white. The dining room in green and lavender. Reaching from the ceiling to the dining table were ribbon streamers with handdelightful and successful events of the kind that has been known here for a long time. Muslo was furnished by Scocozza's Parlor Orchestra, and to its inspiring strains dancing was kept up until a late hour. Many visiting young ladies were present. When the melody of "Home, Sweet Home," gave notice that the german had come to a close, there were many signs of disapproval and in response to vigorous applause, the band played several additional pieces, which, needless to say, were most thoroughly painted eggs, and large and small shelled eggs, representing bunnies reposing on beds of green. The door of the reception hall was opened by a wellgroomed butler, and the guests were met in the hall by Mrs. A. A. Cannaday and Mrs. John W. Sherman. Passing into played several additional places, which, needless to say, were most thoroughly appreciated.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Apperson, Mrs. John S. Wilt, Mrs. E. C. Hamner, Mrs. A. T. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. James Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Easted by Mrs. Frances Bladon, charmenest Heald and Mrs. W. G. Hamner, The young ladies present were Miss. Anna Clift Taylor, Charleston, W. Hunter. The dining room was presided over by Mrs. Bilward Rosenbaum, and refreshments were served by waiters from Hotel Roanoke. From the dining room the gueste entered the Turkish room, where claret punch was ladled by Misses Annie Sexton and Duval Woodrum, of Bent Mountain, two beautiful young girls, the first named being the leading candidate for Queen of the Roanoke Carnival. They were assisted by Elizabeth Wolfe and Irma Cannaday. From this room the guests passed into the blue room, where Misses Gwendolin Bladon and Myrtle Woodrum, pretty blondes, attired in blue, gave each guest a dainty souvenir—hand-painted eggs suspended from ribbon. Notwithetanding the disagreeable weather, nearly every one invited was present, and all pronounced it one of the most charming and artistically beautifully receptions of the year.
